WELCOME ABOARD

Intrepid travelers know that luxury cruise lines offer the most relaxing, hassle-free way to see many favorite destinations, whether that's the island of Borneo, the coast of Cádiz, or the historic Nile River. "These days, there's no such thing as a non-cruiser," says Beth Butzlaff, Virtuoso's vice president of cruise partnerships. "Without cruising, no one would be able to experience Antarctica and much of Alaska and the Galápagos, or see European castles by river."

This special cruise guide shines a spotlight on five lines that are uncompromisingly refined – much like the passengers who step on board. Crystal Cruises, Regent Seven Seas Cruises, Seabourn, Silversea, and Uniworld River Cruises treat guests to stylish staterooms, premium dining from Michelin-starred chefs, sustainability-focused programs, and welcoming one-on-one service from longtime staff.

In the following pages, we preview the industry's most anticipated ship debuts, from the expedition-focused Crystal Endeavor, Seabourn Venture, and Silver Origin to ultimate pampering on Seven Seas Splendor and Uniworld's four new all-suite Super Ships. New sailings unlock less-explored corners of the world, such as the Northwest Passage, Antarctica (with Silversea offering business-class flights to skip the Drake Passage), and the Peruvian Amazon, while others enhance favorites such as Mediterranean and Baltic itineraries with new multiday pre- and post-cruise stays in Tuscany and Budapest.

"This year, cruisers are choosing itineraries based on more-adventurous destinations – the farther away, the better," says Butzlaff. "With new luxury vessels introduced each year, there's truly something for everyone, but it can be a lot for travelers to wrap their heads around. That's why working with a travel advisor is invaluable to ensure passengers end up with the ship and activities that best suit them."

Savvy cruisers understand that you get what you pay for: Luxury cruises' all-inclusive fares allow travelers to truly unwind and enjoy the vacation. And working with a Virtuoso advisor enhances the value even more: These travel experts give passengers access to the industry-leading Virtuoso Voyages program (see page 11), which provides benefits such as a dedicated onboard host to help coordinate plans and a private cocktail reception with fellow Virtuoso globe-trotters. Also included: exclusive VIP shore excursions, a private car and driver in port, or shipboard credit on select itineraries.

Here's to cruising farther in 2020 in high style. We wish you happy sailing.

Quiz Time

A few considerations for finding your perfect voyage.

My ultimate cruise has:

1. Quiet elegance, dream-itinerary port stops, and shore excursions to connect with locals.
2. An en suite sauna, heated ceramic spa lounge beds, and on-call bartender service in my ultra-luxe stateroom. Never leaving.
3. Tasteful, history- and culture-rich tours in hard-to-reach locales. Plus, OMG-level Michelin-starred dining.
4. Off-the-grid adventure with back-aboard comfort.
5. Boutique river yachts with fine art collections and wide-ranging itineraries (from European favorites to the Nile and the Ganges).

My vacation style is:

1. I like variety – more of the best of everything, please.
2. Grand plans: Let's celebrate with a multimonth voyage at sea.
3. I like to relax on a sleek ship, then spend some time savoring an inland destination. Andiamo!
4. Up with an espresso and on the go. What's today's adventure?
5. I want to give back to the places I visit. (I can help others and have my me time too.)

Take me:

1. To Saint-Tropez – beach clubs, designer shades, and spritzes, here I come.
2. On an epic odyssey – history and culture are a plus.

Cruise quiz inspiration.

3. For an extended stay in the heartland of la dolce vita.
4. On Zodiac excursions with binoculars at the ready. Is that a penguin?
5. Exploring mysterious, magical India.

My must-do experience this year:

1. Spend the day on the Côte d'Azur, strolling La Croisette in Cannes and sampling perfume in Grasse.
2. Sip caipirinhas and people-watch in Ipanema – OK, and get in a bit of tanning too.
3. Take a leisurely cooking class in Tuscany. Later, I'll walk to a nearby olive oil mill or sample Italian red wines.

4. Retrace Ernest Shackleton's footsteps while exploring the ice-covered Elephant Island.
5. Engage my inner chakras with a yoga class overlooking the Aravalli Range.

My favorite souvenir to bring back:

1. A gorgeous new sun hat.
2. Spanish and Portuguese phrases I picked up during my travels.
3. A bottle of local grappa and a collection of recipes I can't wait to make back home.
4. Majestic glacier photos.
5. Incense and flowers from a traditional Hindu puja ceremony.

Clockwise from left: Tuscany, Oia village on Santorini, preparing Indian chapati, Cape Horn, and an Antarctic plunge.

THE CRYSTAL SCENE

Spoiled for Choice

“Crystal Cruises is all about providing choices, from where to eat – their ships boast several award-winning Michelin-inspired restaurants – to its wonderful onboard entertainment and the best enrichment program afloat,” says Virtuoso advisor Gina Morovati.

This year, the 848-passenger Crystal Symphony and 980-passenger Crystal Serenity celebrate 30 years with milestone events and shore excursions in the Mediterranean. Meanwhile, Crystal Endeavor, the new 200-passenger, all-suite, polar-class expedition yacht, charts new adventures, starting with its maiden voyage to the Russian Far East in August. Endeavor combines an explorer’s vibe with luxe public spaces, six dining venues, a spa, and private butlers for every suite. Future expeditions tackle the Northeast Passage, Antarctica, and Borneo.

THE REGENT SCENE

Royal Treatment

Regent's all-inclusive experience starts with complimentary round-trip business-class airfare and transfers to its five all-suite, 450- to 750-passenger ships, where fine wines and spirits flow freely (and suites' complimentary mini-bars get a daily refresh). "Sailing with Regent, travelers enjoy seamless attention to detail," says Virtuoso advisor Joyce Krichman. "The exquisite cuisine – for example, the Alaskan king crab at Prime 7 – will satisfy even the most sophisticated palate." The line doubled down on oceangoing opulence with Seven Seas Splendor in February. Debuting in the Caribbean before sailing to the Mediterranean, the 750-passenger vessel features a $5 million art collection, more than 500 chandeliers, and 65 exclusive new shore excursions.

This year's Grand Voyages are especially ambitious: Seven Seas Navigator's 75-day New York-to-Barcelona cruise explores much of the Northern Hemisphere; Seven Seas Mariner skirts the coastline of South America during a 69-day journey from Los Angeles to Miami; and Seven Seas Explorer's 77-day cruise from Barcelona to Auckland plies ancient spice routes. Departures: June 15, from $38,999; October 29, from $38,699; and November 6, from $47,499.

TOP SUITE

Seven Seas Splendor: The Regent Suite SQUARE FEET: 4,443, including the wrap-around balcony.

PERKS: The $200,000 Hästens Vividus handmade mattress, unlimited spa treatments, a private guide and driver in ports, and a dedicated butler.

PROTECTING THE PLANET

Plant-based diets are the newest frontier in eco-friendly living, and right on trend, Regent recently introduced 200 gourmet plant-based dishes fleetwide. From chia cashew yogurt and wild mushroom Bolognese to potato-and-green-pea samosas, the new menu rises to the challenge of promoting healthy, less resource-intensive ingredients in delectable ways.

ON THE TABLE

Regent's dining options range from pan-Asian at upscale Pacific Rim to classic French fare at Chartreuse – plus regional barbecues and grilled fish at Pool Grill – to better accommodate travelers' varied preferences. At Regent's Culinary Arts Kitchen, discover the secrets of street food (such as buttery Belgian waffles and Israeli falafel) or crack Caribbean cuisine's multicultural code during one of Splendor's 16 new two-hour cooking classes (coming to Explorer this spring).

HOT ITINERARY

On an 11-day cruise from Rome to Barcelona, passengers on the new Seven Seas Splendor can visit Napoleon's birthplace in Ajaccio, Corsica, taste local beers at Monaco's only micro-brewery, and shop for Mallorcan pearls in Palma's Mercat de O'livar in Spain. Departure: November 3; from $9,399.

Be a VIP

Virtuoso Voyages provide cruisers with invitation-only experiences on more than 700 sailings annually. This elevated status is complimentary when booking with a Virtuoso advisor. Travelers receive invites to exclusive cocktail receptions and shore excursions – from private car-and-driver tours in multiple ports to opulent multicourse lunches at five-star hotels and historic venues – and enjoy the services of a dedicated onboard host throughout the cruise.

THE SEABOURN SCENE

High-Touch Service at Sea

Bon vivants mingle freely on Seabourn's five elegant 458- to 600-passenger vessels, where every suite offers oceanfront views. "The staff and crew's service and ability to connect with travelers exceeds anything I've seen at even the best hotels," says Virtuoso advisor Bob Bradley. "One afternoon, I was returning to the ship and came across a crew member who went ashore to find a specific type of juice a guest had casually requested that morning." Virtuoso agency owner Valerie Wilson, who first sailed with Seabourn 30 years ago, states it point blank: "Seabourn is the foundation for my ongoing passion for cruising."

The line's unpretentious feel carries over to shore excursions and new pre- and post-cruise extensions, such as Swiss alpine-lake-hopping, a Tuscan wine-and-cheese tasting, and touring imperial capitals from Budapest to Copenhagen. The fleet expands in 2021 with Seabourn Venture, a 264-passenger expedition vessel built to navigate waters around Norway, Greenland, Iceland, and the Canadian Arctic.

THE SILVERSEA SCENE

Pampered Adventure

“Silversea passengers are intrepid, well-traveled souls who want to see what’s next, without boasting about it,” says Virtuoso agency owner Ralph Iantosca. “The cruise line is always introducing itineraries with new ports and excursion concepts.” Attracting cruisers who seek adventure without compromising comfort, Silversea’s all-suite ships range from 100 to 608 passengers and strike a balance between intimacy and the space, amenities, and diversions typically reserved for larger seagoing vessels.

That balance endures with the 596-passenger Silver Moon, debuting this August, and sister ship Silver Dawn, debuting in 2021. In July, Silversea’s first destination-specific ship, the 100-passenger Silver Origin, launches in the Galápagos Islands. Next year brings Silver Cloud’s unprecedented 167-day expedition world cruise from Argentina to Norway. Also new in 2021, the option to skip the Drake Passage and fly business-class direct to Antarctica to explore without delay.

PROTECTING THE PLANET

Silversea supports the Galápagos’ fragile ecosystem – home to giant tortoises, flightless cormorants, and marine iguanas – through environmentally sensitive cruises and, as of last fall, the Silversea Fund for the Galápagos, which finances regional conservation projects.

ON THE TABLE

Pick up techniques from a master baker or cheesemonger, forage or visit local markets with a chef, or enjoy winemaker-led tastings aboard Silver Moon. Silversea's S.A.L.T. (Sea and Land Taste) culinary enrichment program adds spice to shore excursions. On board, the S.A.L.T. Lab hosts lectures, cooking demos that reflect the ports of call, cocktail events, and more.

HOT ITINERARY

Circumnavigate Australia and most of New Zealand (plus a chunk of Indonesia) during the 596-passenger Silver Muse's 51-day Sydney round-trip expedition cruise. On the agenda: snorkeling on the Great Barrier Reef, truffle-hunting in Tasmania, and a ritual blessing at a Balinese temple. Departure: October 31; from $27,000.

VIRTUOSO VOYAGES VIP

Centrally located in the Mediterranean, Malta has seen a lot of traffic: from Phoenicians and Romans to the Knights of Saint John. Virtuoso's exclusive shore excursion starts at third-century Roman catacombs beneath a baroque museum (used as shelters during World War II) and moves on to an eighteenth-century estate often compared to Versailles. THE UNIWORLD SCENE

Yachting by River

“Uniworld vessels are like floating boutique hotels, with amazing decor and artwork and stellar service – they’re different than anything else on rivers today,” says Virtuoso advisor Michelle Andersen. With 18 ships in Europe, Asia, Egypt, and beyond, Uniworld distinguishes itself with museum-worthy art collections and butlers trained to the Buckingham Palace standard. This year, four Super Ships join its 32- to 196-passenger fleet, with added suites, expanded dining venues, and one-of-a-kind grand stairways on the S.S. Mekong Jewel (Vietnam and Cambodia), S.S. Sphinx (Nile River), S.S. Gabriel (Douro River), and S.S. La Venezia (Po River and Venetian Lagoon). In September, the line taps a new continent with cruises in the Peruvian Amazon.
